Thakran, Department of History, University of Delhi on "River Saraswati: Myths and Realities" on 8th March

On 9th March, various cultural events and competitions such as poetry competition, Ad-Mad etc. were organized during the Festival. A Manipuri dance performance, Bharatanatyam; Dance Jugalbandi and a North Eastern fashion show, and showcasing the traditional dresses of north-eastern states were the highlights of the Festival.

19-5-2016: Farewell Programme for the Third Year Students was organized by the students and teachers. Many cultural performances were also put by students of all the years.

New Academic session: July 2016 onwards

12-8-2016: Orientation programme for the First Year Students: This year we have more than 80 students in the first year History honours. In keeping with our tradition, an orientation programme for these students was conducted where they were addressed by all the teachers. They were explained about the facilities available in the College apart from the activities that are organized by the Department. They were encouraged to participate in these activities. These students were also informed about the importance and opportunities attached to the study of History.

19-8-2016: Educational trip for second year History students under Skill Enhancement Course for Archives and Museum: Day long visit to the National Archives and National Museum. A large number of students accompanied by three teachers of the History Department visited the National Archives of India and the National Museum in Delhi. This visit constituted an essential part of the curriculum for this course. These were guided trips and officials in these institutions took the students to various artefacts and holdings of national importance. This is one of the ways in which students can be sensitized to the priceless treasures concerning Indian heritage and freedom struggle. They became familiar with multiple archival holdings in the National Archives and numerous artefacts kept in the National Museum.

16-9-2016: Scheduled lecture by an eminent historian

19-9-2016: Cultural Programme cum Introduction: First year students

Apart from these, the Department plans to organize various activities in the current academic year. A trip of the third year History (Hons) students to the newly unveiled museum at the Rashtrapati Bhavan is being planned for September 2016. Since this museum showcases many events and processes of the modern and contemporary period, students of modern Indian history would immensely benefit from this trip.

Other educational trips shall also be organized during the course of the current academic year, e.g. trip to Archaeological Survey of India and to the American Institute of Indian Studies etc. We also plan to organize a small workshop for students to train them further in the art of making presentations and paper writing.

Apart from holding seminars at regular on subjects related to the syllabus, the Department is also planning to organize a National level Seminar on varied themes of History during Jan-Feb 2017 and teachers are already contacting funding agencies for suitable grants for this purpose.

The Department is also deliberating the possibility of organizing some short term workshop during the winter/summer vacation to the students of History. In addition to the teaching of the curriculum, these short term courses will work to enhance allied skills.

Apart from the above, the Department plans to organize some new events like quiz competition, paper presentation, essay competition etc. for our students.

It has also been decided to screen short movie related to History for students by respective teachers which would be followed by discussions on the related theme.
