Subject: Prohibition of Victory Celebrations After Election Results

All students are hereby informed that as per the directions of the Hon'ble Delhi High Court, no victory procession or celebration of any kind shall be held by candidates or their supporters after the declaration of election results.

The Court has clearly stated that: "After declaration of results, no victory procession, either in the campus or in the hostels or any area in the city of Delhi shall be taken by any candidate or the supporters."

Students are strictly advised to comply with this order. Any violation will invite strict disciplinary and legal action, which may also affect candidature even after the declaration of results.

All concerned are directed to maintain peace and decorum.

“We direct that after declaration of results, no victory procession, either in the campus or in the hostels or any area in the city of Delhi shall be taken by any candidate or the supporters,” a division bench comprising Chief Justice DK Upadhyaya and Justice Tushar Rao Gedela ordered.

The counsel appearing for the Delhi Police told the Court that as per an updated status report, 654 challans were issued yesterday over violations of regulatory norms during campaigning for the polls.

Advocate Prashant Manchanda, appearing in person (petitioner), told Court that even yesterday, campaigning was done by the candidates and their supporters using “huge cars.”

As the Court was informed that the voting will take place tomorrow and the counting of votes is scheduled for September 19, it ordered:

“We thus direct the Delhi Police, the administration of the University and also the civil administration of the area concerned to take all possible and permissible steps to ensure that during polling, or even before and after that, no untoward incident takes place, neither any violation of regulatory norms or measures are permitted.”
